

TRAVEL WITH A PURPOSE TO VENEZUELA

VENEZUELA AND THE GLOBAL ECONOMY

DECEMBER 3 – 13, 2008
Alternative winter break trip for Ohio U.
students and others who are interested in social justice for the Americas!

Come to Venezuela and learn first hand about the current economic, political and social situation in Venezuela. Learn how US policies impact Venezuela. Because of Witness for Peace's commitment to political independence, the delegations to Venezuela will focus on U.S. policy and provide an opportunity for delegates to gain an independent analysis of the situation.

This delegation offers participants opportunities to:

- Understand U.S. policies toward Venezuela and their potential impact on the people of Venezuela.
- Gain insight into the political, economic and social situation in Venezuela from Venezuelans representing many different views on the political spectrum.

- Witness first hand some of the most innovative social programs of the Chavez government including health, education and land reform.
- Meet with labor organizers, scholars, professionals, business people, representatives of the media and activists to discuss the economic, social and political issues confronting Venezuelan society
- Discuss alternatives to current US policies and ways to advocate for more just policies toward Venezuela .

Cost: The price of the delegation is $1400.00. The delegation fee covers all set-up, preparation, meals, lodging, interpreters, and transportation within Venezuela. The fee also covers extensive reading and activist tools both before and after the delegation. This does NOT cover airfare.

FUNDRAISING ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE!!!!!!

For more information/application, please contact: Melissa Wales

740-593-7301 or ucmcf@frogn.net
18 N. College St, Athens Oh 45701

Witness for Peace

www.witnessforpeace.org

www.ucmathens.org